Thank you for making Chesapeake Bay restoration a top natural resource priority. Ensuring that the James River, other rivers and the Bay are clean is vital to our health, safety and economy.

As you work towards developing, finalizing, implementing and enforcing Virginia's Watershed Implementation Plan, I urge you to ensure we all are a part of the clean up efforts. That includes farmers, developers, industries and residents from around the watershed. We must have specific actions in place that achieve water quality standards by 2025. Additionally polluters should be held accountable for the damage they do to our rivers and streams.

Our rivers, streams and the Bay are too valuable to not restore.

Sincerely,
